

Business and Marketing Solutions for High Technology Companies seeking to enter the U.S. Market

Marketechcorp is a marketing, business development and consulting company specializing in marketing and implementation of high-technologies to small and midsize business entities in the U.S. and Canadian markets.

Marketech offers high technology companies a reliable, high quality alternative to in-house resources for business development, market development, and raising capital on an international scale.

A true alternative to in-house resources offers a high level of practical experience, know how, contacts, and confidentiality. Through its wide contacts in the North American region hi-tech environment, Marketechcorp provides high level expertise in international hi-tech business development, channel development distribution, business development strategies and marketing of hi-tech products and technologies.

1

Our team of experts understand equally the American markets and your home culture and business markets.

Specifically, our management team has years of experience in the international high tech market. Diverse knowledge allows us to tailor marketing services and solutions to meet your distinct needs and goals. Partnered with Wareforce and through our own vast network of contacts we have accumulated a great spectrum of alliances to further your company's presence in the U.S.

2

Thinking of opening your own office in the U.S.?

That's what we do.

Start-ups can be a real risk. We can pave the way for you, or be that office.

Marketechcorp is already well established in the U.S. market. Using our services eliminates direct expenses.

- We dedicate project managers to each company to conduct and maintain contacts and connections in the U.S.
- With the resources we accumulate for you, we will help you launch your own office.
- We can help you staff and locate a branch office of your own company.

info@marketechcorp.com
5909 West Loop South, Suite 555, TX 77401
Tel: 713-667-7778 Fax: 713-660-6777
www.marketechcorp.com

3

Think you have the U.S. market all taken care of?

Think again. Test and compare us to any of your current resources. Our vast network of alliances handled by our expert staff enables us to create numerous opportunities for your company. Think ahead. While your current resources may be productive, you should consider relying on multiple groups. If you thought your access was good before, imagine how much better it can be.

4

We don't just open doors, we're with you all the way.

Sure we take the lead and connect you with the single richest market in the world, but that's just the beginning. We take the lead at meetings and presentations, we maintain your relations with the contacts we create and do whatever it takes to take full advantage of all the resources we have to offer, including post sales service.

5

Marketing and business development is our business.

Because we are an American company, the American market is our home. Marketechcorp is staffed with experts; our total business is dedicated to helping you develop your company in the U.S. Finally, because we keep a vast network of associations at hand at all times, often there is no need to create new contacts.

Marketechcorp is your marketing and business development office in the U.S.

info@marketechcorp.com
5909 West Loop South, Suite 555, TX 77401
Tel: 713-667-7778 Fax: 713-660-6777
www.marketechcorp.com

